DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 16 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. Claim 16 does not further limit the subject matter of parent claim 12.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 12-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The applicant's written description fails to teach "unamplified" output of the cavity-dumped femtosecond laser as recited in the amended claims.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 28 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 28 recites the limitation "The device in claim 22" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 29 recites the limitation "The device in claim 22" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 12-21, 26, and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over by Aitken et al. US Patent No. 6,573,026.

With respect to claim 12, Aitken et al. disclose apparatus and method of use for writing a pattern in a glass substrate, the apparatus comprising a cavity-dumped femtosecond laser. Aitken et al. do not specifically teach a holding mechanism for fixing the glass substrate relative to the laser beams. However, the examiner's position is that the glass substrate is functionally held/positioned relative to the laser pulses. Hence, the reference functionally teaches the recited limitation.

Furthermore, the recitation "so as to destroy a cohesion of the material using photodisruption" in the claim is directed to intended use of the device. Intended use claim language is generally given a limited patentable weight. Therefore, this claim language is given a limited patentable weight.

Note: with respect to the limitation "unamplified" oscillator in claim 12, the applicant's written description fails to provide support for this claim language. Hence, this limitation is given a limited patentable weight.

With respect to claim 15, the apparatus of Aitken et al. further comprises optical components (see Fig. 5) and a programmable computer system adapted to translate the laser pulses.

With respect to claims 26 and 27, the recited claims language is directed to intended use of the apparatus and, therefore, is given a limited patentable weight.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 22-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Juhazs et al. US Patent No. 6,146,375.

Juhazs et al. disclose photorefractive treatment apparatus and method of use, comprising: providing a femtosecond laser source to provide the energy, and directing the laser beams to a patient's eye so as to destroy cohesion of desired regions of the ocular tissue. Juhazs et al. do not teach that the laser source is a cavity-dumped laser oscillator. However, the applicant failed to teach that the use of cavity-oscillator provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. Therefore, at the time of the applicant's invention, one of ordinary skill in the art would have used a cavity-dumped laser oscillator as an equivalent alternative source to provide the treatment energy.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
